Friday, 09 Aug 2013

SPML Infra is likely to receive the green nod from Ministry of Environment & Forests (MoEF), for two hydroelectric power projects in Aizawl district of Mizoram by September 2013.

The company plans to set up the two hydel based power projects - one at Tuivawl with 42 MW capacity, and the other with 38 MW capacity at Turini in Aizawl district.

The company has already submitted all the documents along with feasibility reports to MoEF.

Once the environment clearances are in place, the developer will submit the detailed project report (DPR) by the end of December, 2013.

Accordingly, SPML Infra may also invite RFQs for the electro-mechanical package by June 2014.
